DR. S. KOBAYASHI HAILED AS A SAVIOR BY PEOPLE IN JAPAN

DR. S. KOBAYASHI.

A remarkable man is Dr. S. Kobayashi. Still more remarkable were his experiences in China and Japan from which countries he returned to his home in Honolulu a few weeks ago. Kobayashi is a wonderful surgeon, and has performed some remarkable operations in the islands. In Japan on his recent visit the famous Japanese physician performed even more wonderful cures—so wonderful that he was all but proclaimed a second Christ—or Buddha. As a result of his cures he is to be placed at the head of a charity hospital in Japan to which he will return in two years' time.

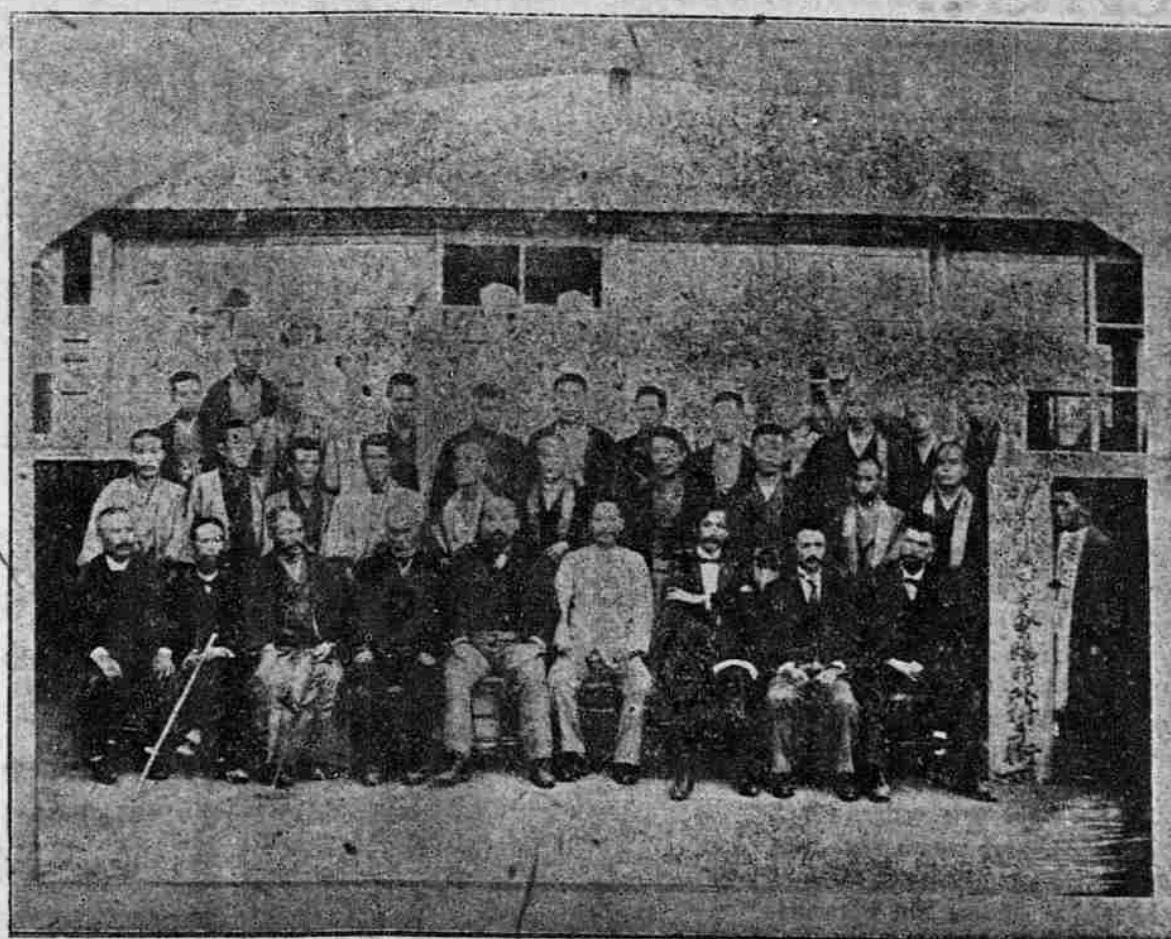

Kobayashi is a firm believer in Buddha. In all the years of his practice he has always prayed to the Japanese God for help in his medical operations. A year ago he believed he was called to go to China—to open up the empire to the ways of western civilization. He started from Honolulu with about $10,000. He returned to Honolulu recently with only a Japanese twenty sen piece. But he did have a beautiful sword, a hand made weapon with a blade said to be five hundred years old. The sword had been given to him by the Japanese people as a reward for his services in surgery and after he had refused the offer of a large purse of gold. Kobayashi has spent the fortune made in his private practice in Honolulu in increasing his medical attainments, making frequent trips to Europe and America and for that purpose invariably returning penniless. When he left Honolulu a year ago last October Kobayashi had just disposed of his hospital in Honolulu for $5,000 and with the remainder of his fortune started out to civilize the Chinese. His mission was not an official one, no powerful government helped in the enterprise but one man, believing that the Japanese were best suited for the work of making over the Chinese empire attempted the herculean task.

Kobayashi located first in Canton, advertised that he was prepared to cure all that came and waited. He waited in vain. One man who was blind did come to him and asked if he could be cured. He received a negative answer. Still another man came with an impossible request and asked to be operated upon. Kobayashi offered to do the work, but when he was asked to give a written guarantee that the operation would be successful he demurred. He said it was unprofessional. And so several came all asking positive guarantees and none remained. Kobayashi despaired and himself fell sick with fever. He, believing that it was his fate to die and abandon his work did nothing to cure himself. But one night when he was near the end he had a revelation. He saw that his mission was not ended and that there was work still for him to do. And so the physician recovered and returned to Hongkong. There he was accorded the unusual privilege of being licensed to practice in the English colonies, an unheard of honor for a Japanese, and said to be only the second license issued by the British Government of its kind.

While in China Kobayashi had a remarkable experience. He was approached by two distinguished Chinese and requested to accompany them. A huge sack of gold and silver bars were offered to him if he would consent to come as physician to the Boxer Army. He was told that upon him depended the safety of the Chinese empire. But the Japanese refused and said he cured the diseases of man and not of nations. A little later he learned that it was the intention of the rebels to take him away by force, as among all their people there was not a physician.

It was when Kobayashi returned to his native land that he was made the most of. The papers heralded his coming and when he landed in the vicinity of Kobe hundreds of the sick and suffering besieged him and knelt down asking his services. Finally a temporary hospital was established and Kobayashi treated all who came. He took no fee and the poor and rich alike availed themselves of his services. Dr.

Kobayashi performed many wonderful cures. He stopped at nothing. One woman had a tumor weighing fifty pounds removed. The accompanying photograph shows the surgeons and nurses who assisted at the operation. With them also is the governor of the province, priests and other prominent men who paid homage to the famous physician. In the three months that he was there Kobayashi performed ninety-one surgical operations, all but one of which was successful. He treated in his hospital during that time over 1600 patients. For none of his services did the doctor accept a fee and when he was about to leave the citizens offered him a purse of gold. This he refused, but finally agreed to accept a sword as emblematical of his services in surgery. Before leaving also he was made to promise to return and take charge of a charity hospital which will be established with the help of the government. The fund for this will be raised in two years at the end of which time Dr. Kobayashi expects to leave Honolulu and take charge of the institution which will be established at Kyoto, near Kobe.

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir—Last July I purchased one of your high-grade Belts and can truthfully say that I have not felt the least bit of pain in my back since then. The pains which I formerly had, and which were the result of the varicose, have also disappeared. I think the Belt is a wonder, and it did not inconvenience me in the least while I was wearing it. I began to pick up a short time after I commenced its use, and the fact that I am able to tell you of my complete cure has given me such confidence in the treatment that I gladly recommend it to any one suffering as I did. Yours truly, CLARENCE JENKINS (Box 676).

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir—I had suffered a number of years from weak kidneys and lame back when I bought one of your high-grade Belts, and am pleased to be able to tell you that it has done me more good than the combined efforts of a great number of physicians whom I tried before beginning your treatment. Your Belt is surely a wonder, and I will gladly recommend it to any one afflicted as I was. It is the cheapest and safest cure a man can obtain. Wishing you continued success and with kindest regards, I remain, Yours gratefully, H. A. LEHNDORFF, Proprietor El Monte Hotel.

Dr. McLaughlin:

Dear Sir—It is now two months since I procured your Belt and my regular use of the appliance for that length of time has made me feel like a new man, better in every way. My back does not bother me any now, and I will speak a good word for your Belt whenever I can. Yours respectfully, SAMUEL A. LEWIS (Box 94).

Call and Test It Today! If You Can't Call, Send for My Book—Free.

I know that no person remains a weakling because he wants to; I am sure you want to overcome every indication of early decay that has shown itself on you. I don't think the person lives who would not like to feel as big and strong as a Sandow, and I know that if you have a reasonable foundation to build upon I can make you a bigger person than you ever hoped to be. I want you to know that, you who can't believe it, and I want you to have my book, in which I describe how I learned that strength was only electricity, and how I learned to restore it; also I want to tell you the names of some people who will tell you that when they came to me they were physical wrecks and are now among the finest specimens of physical manhood.

I want you to read this book and learn the truth about my arguments. If you are not as vigorous as you would like to be, if you have rheumatic pains, weak kidneys, loss of vitality, nervous spells, varicose, or any ailment of that kind, it would assure you future happiness if you would look into this method of mine. Don't delay it, your best days are slipping by. If you want this book I send it closely sealed free if you send this ad. Call for free consultation.
